How risky is it?

The value of the fund can go down as well as up. You could lose money. One way to gauge risk is to look at how much a fund's returns change over time. This is called "volatility".

In general, funds with higher volatility will have returns that change more over time. They typically have a greater chance of losing money and may have a greater chance of higher returns. Funds with lower volatility tend to have returns that change less over time. They typically have lower returns and may have a lower chance of losing money.

Risk rating

Franklin Templeton has rated the volatility of this fund as low to medium.

This rating is based on how much the fund’s returns have changed from year to year. It doesn’t tell you how volatile the fund will be in the future. The rating can change over time. A fund with a low risk rating can still lose money.

For more information about the risk rating and specific risks that can affect the fund’s returns, see the Investment risk classification methodology section of the fund’s simplified prospectus.

No guarantees

Like most mutual funds, this fund doesn’t have any guarantees. You may not get back the amount of money you invest.

A word about tax

In general, you pay income tax on your share of the fund’s earnings and on any gains you realize from redeeming your investment. The amount of tax depends on the tax rules and rates that apply to you, and whether you hold the fund in a registered plan, such as an RRSP or TFSA.

If you hold the fund in a non-registered account, we send a tax slip that shows your share of the fund’s earnings. You must calculate your gains on redemption.

How much does it cost?

The following tables show the fees and expenses you could pay to buy, own and sell Series T securities of the fund. The fees and expenses – including any commissions – can vary among series of a fund and among funds. Higher commissions can influence representatives to recommend one investment over another. Ask about other series, funds and investments that may be suitable for you at a lower cost.
