How risky is it?

The value of the fund can go down as well as up. You could lose money. One way to gauge risk is to look at how much a fund's returns change over time. This is called "volatility".

In general, funds with higher volatility will have returns that change more over time. They typically have a greater chance of losing money and may have a greater chance of higher returns. Funds with lower volatility tend to have returns that change less over time. They typically have lower returns and may have a lower chance of losing money.

Risk rating

Franklin Templeton has rated the volatility of this fund as medium.

This rating is based on how much the fund's returns have changed from year to year. It doesn't tell you how volatile the fund will be in the future. The rating can change over time. A fund with a low risk rating can still lose money.

Low	Low to Medium	Medium	Medium to High	High
-----	---------------	---------------	----------------	------

For more information about the risk rating and specific risks that can affect the fund's returns, see the Investment risk classification methodology section of the fund's simplified prospectus.

No guarantees

Like most mutual funds, this fund doesn't have any guarantees. You may not get back the amount of money you invest.

Who is this fund for?

Investors who:

- are conservative equity investors
- want income and some capital gains from a fund to be held outside a registered plan
- want to invest in a core Canadian dividend fund
- invest for a medium to long term
- can handle the ups and downs of the stock market

A word about tax

In general, you pay income tax on your share of the fund's earnings and on any gains you realize from redeeming your investment. The amount of tax depends on the tax rules and rates that apply to you, and whether you hold the fund in a registered plan, such as an RRSP or TFSA. If you hold the fund in a non-registered account, we send a tax slip that shows your share of the fund's earnings. You must calculate your gains on redemption.

Investors switching between Corporate Class Funds will trigger a capital gain or loss at the time of the switch.

How much does it cost?

The following tables show the fees and expenses you could pay to buy, own and sell Series PA securities of the fund. The fees and expenses – including any commissions – can vary among series of a fund and among funds. Higher commissions can influence representatives to recommend one investment over another. Ask about other series, funds and investments that may be suitable for you at a lower cost.

Effective January 25, 2019, we will provide eligible investors with combined management and administration fee decreases on their eligible Franklin Templeton fund investments. If your account(s) no longer meets the minimum investment threshold requirement of $200,000 to be eligible for Series PA, we may automatically switch your securities into Series A which has higher combined management and administration fees than Series PA. For more information on the fees for the applicable series, see the “Fund Expenses” section below and the “Fees and Expenses” section in the fund’s simplified prospectus and speak to your representative for additional details.

The series' annual management fee is 1.70% and the series' annual fixed administration fee is 0.15% of the series' value. Because this series is new, any operating expenses not covered by the fixed administration fee and trading costs are not yet available.
